Coin .- The report of the Director of the Mint places the amount of gold coin in the country at a hundred and thirty-five millions of dollars, and of silver at five millions, all of which large amount is in circulation only so far as regards the silver in California and the Territories west of the Rocky Mountains. Dr. Linderman seems to anticipate that specie payments are to be arrived at through the increase of the volume of gold in the United States, but the process will be condemned as too slow in view of the present situation of financial affairs. With the current of British gold tending towards this side of the Atlantic and the premium falling to figures below what it has been since 1861, it is improbable that gold can be much longer held exclusively for speculation and exchange. It must soon come into circulation, and the report of Dr. Linderman is rather encouraging.

Business Matters. - Abroad and at home the week opens with an improvement as regards finance, commerce, trade and manufactures. Our local situation is especially favorable, in view of the monetary stringency so generally prevalent. All of the eighteen cotton mills in Maryland are running on full time, with an undiminished complement of hands, with the single exception of the Laurel, and the demand for their goods is very little short of what it usually is at this season of the year. The jobbers speak encouragingly, and have no idea of limiting business. The iron trade is unharmed; the mills of the Abbott Company, Trego & Thompson, and Coates Brothers are steadily at work, without any anticipation of shutting down. The banks continue to pay out money liberally for use in legitimate business, and the complaints against them come almost entirely from people who want currency to send away. and the bank are steady in their purpose of keeping money at home. There is yet no perceptible suffering among the working classes, and the facts that there is no unusual pressure either upon the Savings Banks or the Building Associations is evidence that they are not generally short of money. The oyster trade is dull under the influence of a decline of Western orders, but the packing houses confidently hope for better things shortly. In New York yesterday the principal financial topics were the meeting of the creditors of H. B. Claffin & Co., and the statements of the Chesapeake & Obio Railroad. It was found that the Claffin assets were nearly seven millions of dollars in advance of their was $11,000. liabilities, and the creditors at once granted an extension of four months for the settlement of accounts. The Chesapeake and Ohio Directors have resolved on an issue of twelve millions of seven per cent. twenty year bonds as the only measure possible for the salvation of the road. day was the decline of the Gold rate from 1084 to 107½, closing at 107½, the lowest point reached since June, 1862. Money was in active demand throughout the day, and the rate for call loans until Wednesday (to-day being a legal holiday in New York) ranged from 7 per cent. per annum to + per cent., closing at 1-16a+ and interest. - Balt. The Washington Chronicle says : - "The unfavorable showing of the public debt statement (an increase of three and a half millions of dollars) issued Saturday, is accounted for at the Treasury by the announcement that the revenues have been very much diminished by the prostration of business, growing out of the financial panic. At the same time the demands upon the Treasury have been as large as usual. Every one who held a claim against the Government pressed for its payment, as the treasury was the only source from which he could obtain relief financially."

The ceremony of a reconciliation between certain hostile Indians, of various tribes, was enacted at the Indian Commissioner's Office, in Washington, yesterday. Whether the reconciliation is to be a permanent one remains to be seen.

A note from Hamilton, Loudoun county Va., says :- "The Radical meeting here last night had the effect of changing several votes from the independent candidates to the conservative ticket."

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

One of the things you read of recently occurred in Wilmington, Dei. A man was detected hurrying away from a butcher's stall with a steak, which he had stolen, under his coat. A policeman followed him to his home, and peeping through the window, saw him give the steak to his children, who devoured it raw. Upon report of this being made to the butcher. his bosom so glowed with benevolent sympathy that instead of prosecuting, he sent the starying family a large basket of meat and some e ash to buy wood to cook it.

BANK ISSUES IN SOUTH CAROLINA. - The U. S. Supreme Court yesterday decided the case of the State of South Carolina ex rel. Wagner vs. Stoll, county treasurer, from the Supreme Court of the State, involving the question of the validity of the issues of the Bank of the State during the war. The charter of the bank framed in 1812 provided that its issues should be receivable for taxes; but the county treasurer now refused to receive them, on the ground that they were issued in aid of the rebellion, and were therefore no tender. The court below sustained the objection, and the judgment was for the treasurer. On a former argument of the case in this court that judgment was affirmed, but upon a reargument at this term there is a change of opinion, and the judgment is now reversed, the same judge writing the opinion, the court holding that as the faith of the State was pledged for these bills the holders were entitled to rely upon that eredit and to its protection. The credit of the State could not be withdrawn without an open and clear declaration to that effect, and such a declaration was not made until 1868-by the repeal of the charter-which was too late to render the bills no tender in the present case.

A story is told of a former member of the Missouri Legislature, whose reputation was far from spotless, that he absented himself for a while, under the plea of sickness, and shortly after had his death announced. Thereupon the Legislature passed the usual resolutions of condolence; some of the wily member's bitterest enemies eulogized their "departed friend's exalted character and high moral worth," and the next day he reappeared in his seat with the resolutions and eulogies neatly pasted in his memorandum book as a receipt in full for the past, and a letter of credit for the future. - Ex

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co. A STATEMENT FROM THE TREASURER.

James J. Tracy, Treasurer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, has issued a circular to the bondholders in regard to the pecupiary condition of the company.

This circular says that the Board of Directors save decided that the only way to re-establish he credit of the company is to fund its entire floating debt in income bonds to be paid out of the net earnings of the road. It then con-

"They have, therefore, suthorized the issue of even per cent twenty-year income bonds, to the amount of twelve millions of dollars, to be used in re iring the floating debt, and in funding he interest that will accrue on its six per cent pends, to and including May 1, 1875; and also the interest that will accrue on its seven per cent bonds, to and including July 1, 1876. The said ncome bonds, principal and inter st, are payable out of the net earnings of the road, interest emi-annually, and are dated October 1, 1873.

The proposition which I am instructed to submit to all holders of this company's bonds is as tohows, namely: All ho'ders of six per cent bonds, having coupons attached, to surrender to the company all coupons due on or before May , 1875 and to receive therefor the face value thereof, less interest to October 1, 1873, in insome bonds as above described, at the rate of ighty-five cents on the dollar.

"All holders of registered six per cent bonds having coupons detached, to assign to the said railroad company all interest that will accrue thereon to and including May 1, 1875, and to receive the value or amount thereof, less interest to October 1. 1873, in income bonds as above set orth. All holders of seven per cent bonds having coupons attached to surrender to the company all coupons due on or before July 1, 1876, and to receive therefor the face value thereof less interest to October 1, 1873, in income tonds as above set forth. All holders of seven per ct. registered bonds, having coupons detached, to assign to the said railroad company all interest that will accrue thereon to and including July 1, 1876 and to receive the value or amount thereof, for use. MEN NOT ADMITTED -A COMMUNITY OF WOMEN UNLY. - A Boston letter says:

"The establishment of a women's community within the limits of the town of Woburn, about twelve miles from Boston, was begun yesterday by the formal raising of the frame of the first building. In this community all the land management of the affairs of the village is conextent of the utter political disqualification of the steroer sex. The members of the community are obliged to assent to a constitution which is to govern it, but further than this they are unrestrained, except, however, that they are expected to attend at least once a week upon the unsectarian service to be held. The occupation of the residents in Aurora village will be varied, and industrial schools are provided to fit persons for the different mestic school for instruction in home duties. Each homestead is to be accompanied with a garden, and gardening and fruit-raising will be a favorite occupation. Cooperative schemes are also planned. One of these, and that which has been pushed nearer to realization than any other connected with the enterprise, is the establishment of a laundry where full facilities are to be afforded for doing work on a large scale, and bringing money into this thus far decidedly needy violage by competing with famous Troy laundries. About 1,000 persons are committed to the enterprise, though they are not all women, and not to be residents. The site of the village is a wilderness, and it offers all manner of obstacles. The community is called 'The Women's Economical Garden Homestead League,' and it is established by act of the State Legislature.'

MANNERS - In illustration of the importance of good manners an English contemporary reealls an incident which occurred at a Scotch telegraph office many years ago. Lord John Russeil was the Minister in attendance upon her Majesty at Balmoral, and one evening there came a messenger to Aboyne-a little old man, buried in a great coat-with a dispatch from his Lordship to one of his ministerial colleagues in London. The message was handed to the elerk in charge, a peremtory person, who, seeing that it did not bear a signature -- it was in the days of the old companies, when a signature was necessary---threw it contemptuously back, with the authoritive command, "Put your name to it; it's a pity your master doesn't know how to send a dispatch." The name was added, and the message handed back. "Why, you cants' write, either !" cried the enraged clerk, after vainly endeavoring to make out the signature, "Here, let me do it. What's your name?" "My name," said the little old messenger, very deliberately, 'is John Russeil," It was Lord John himself, and the unhappy clerk was removed from Aboyne forth-
